Weight-wise, these chandeliers are lighter than the French ones, yet have more weight than modern chandeliers. Our classic chandeliers are either gold-plated or chrome-plated.

LUMIN
Modern Collection

The modern line was launched at Kandil Egypt as a response to increasing market demand on this style of chandeliers; it features modern colors while maintaining the high-quality manufacturing standards. We've thus given this specific line a new separate Brand-named "Lumin"!

LE BRONZE

This line is an extension of the traditional French Classic lighting treasures most acknowledged for the richness of ornamentation. Added to its high quality, this line owns a level of beauty in design and a sense of value that never fades through time.

Whitey

OUR TECHNOLOGIES

In addition to human resources that play the biggest role in the chandelier manufacturing process in general, we utilize advanced technologies in some of the manufacturing phases; including the cutting technique CNC, Water jet and custom printing solution (UV).

OUR PLATING TECHNIQUE

Our factories give very high attention to the plating process through all its phases. Every product goes through four phases during plating. First, the metal is plated with copper for insulation against air conditions and corrosion prevention. Second a layer of bright nickel is plated as preceding step for the final finish plating. The third step is laying the product finish, be it gold, chrome, or silver. Finally a coat of varnish is applied to the piece to further protect it. During all these phases, Kandil Egypt uses the most advanced and precise plating technologies that are continuously subjected to quality testing.

QUALITY CONTROL

Our Products go through several quality tests to guarantee adherence to our own quality standards as well as those of the country to which the product is being exported to. Quality is checked at every phase in the manufacturing process up to packaging. In addition, random samples of finished products are tested before delivery to customers.

Kandil Egypt has successfully acquired several international certificates; namely cULus, SASO, ISO 9001, CE, CB & RoHS.
